Project Description. What was done in 110 words or less? The Phoenix Police Department's Communication Center operators receive calls that are extremely traumatic such as child drownings, officer-involved shootings, domestic violence, wrong-way drivers, and so forth. The leadership at the PPD have asked for a place where the operators can retreat to in order to regain their composure and find comfort following these situations. The PPD has dedicated a 7' x 18' room in their facility that they would like to house this calming room.
