Work done at Ashramshala Maswan Near Palghar since 2007:

With the help of generous donors have made buildings with proper classrooms, benches and E Learning facilities, well ventilated kitchen, dining and recreational hall, hostels for girls & boys with sanitation facilities including solar panels for hot water & also a vocational center. ROTARY CLUB OF BOMBAY AIRPORT has truly transformed the ways of education of these young children each year for more than 300 students. Their dream and our vision turned REALITY.

Over 800 children study at Ganjad Ashramshala Co-educational Adivasi School. The school has the capacity to house 400 children with limited living facilities. The remaining children walk several kilometers each day from nearby villages, to attend school.

Narrow potholed roads turning into a graveled pathway, lead up to the school.

The compound comprises a few single-storey buildings that house small classrooms which double up as dormitories after class. Toilets, few in numbers are remotely located and cause pertinent problems for these girls, especially after dusk.

RCBA in an endeavor to promote GIRLS education, proposes to set up comfortable facilities for these girls with proper hygiene facilities.

SUSTAINABILITY

Ashramshala (Residential School) for Adivasi (Tribal) children at Ganjad was established in 1989 and managed by Shikshan Prasarak Mandal Trust.

The cost of Principal, Teachers and staff and food is provided by the Ministry of Tribal Welfare, Government of Maharashtra.

However, no provisions are made for infrastructure, amenities and basic other necessities.

The Trust has successfully managed provide free education to over 800 children each year with a committed faculty of 15 teachers and 10 support staff who undertake primary teaching from Grade I to secondary education up to Grade X.

The rooms are lined with the children's meagre possessions, with no place else for storage. These contain their bare essentials, a sad testimony to their premature acceptance of fate.

Several structures in the compound have crumbling roofs, in urgent need of repair. Ill-equipped kitchens, dilapidated toilets are amongst many unhygienic conditions that urgently need to be rectified.

The children are forced to use the toilets as per an allotted schedule, rather than on a need basis. The broken-down condition scares the younger children against using the toilets at night.
