

Education for Human Values

(Painted on walls of classrooms and Residence hall)

A saying that all children at Prashanti School learn and live by Village life in India can be very harsh, and many children are marginalized and suffer from very low self-esteem and little respect for themselves, other people or the environment. They have few role models encouraging them to build self-confidence, self-reliance, and self-discipline. Our training program will help the Prashanti teachers to foster the development of good character, effective communication, and an understanding of the human values of truth, right-action, peace, love and non-violence in the children. This will help them learn to effectively solve problems, make healthy decisions, and become caring and responsible adults who can meet the challenges of life with resourcefulness, compassion and inner strength, positively affecting their families, community and the world.
